Data shown in this report were gathered through the 2022 National Survey of Area Agencies on Aging conducted by USAging in partnership with the Scripps Gerontology Center at Miami University. The survey helps track the trends and new directions in a growing and evolving Aging Network. The full survey results are available in the 2023 chartbook: More Older Adults, More Complex Needs: Trends and New Directions from the National Survey of Area Agencies on Aging, available at www.usaging.org/aaasurvey.

About Hawaii’s AAAs

- Three out of four of Hawaii’s AAAs responded to the survey.1
- All of the responding AAAs are part of a city or county government.
- Two of Hawaii’s responding AAAs serve non-rural areas and one serves a predominantly rural service area.

Services and Supports

All AAAs provide the core supportive services required by the Older Americans Act (OAA), including nutrition (home-delivered and congregate meals), disease prevention and health promotion, caregiver services and elder rights. AAAs also provide innovative services that are tailored to meet local and regional needs by supporting the health and independence of older adults in their communities. The most common additional services provided by Hawaii AAAs, whether directly or through a contracted provider, are below.

- Adult day service
- Assessment for care planning
- Benefits/health insurance counseling
- Case management
- Chore services
- Other meals/nutrition program
- Homemaker
- Legal assistance
- Personal assistance/personal care
- Respite care
- Senior center activities/operations
- Transportation services

Populations Served

AAAs often serve populations in addition to those 60 and older. In Hawaii, the most commonly served population under the age of 60 is caregivers of all ages. Hawaii AAAs are also serving consumers under age 60 with a disability, chronic illness or advanced illness and veterans of all ages.

1 Please note that if there is significant variation across AAAs within a state, it is possible that non-respondents differ from respondents in ways that would change overall findings if they had responded. Not all AAAs answered every question.
Budget and Staffing
Details about the median budget (2021 fiscal or calendar year) and staff size of the Hawaii AAAs that responded to the survey are below.

- The median budget of Hawaii AAAs is $3 million, with a range of $1.1 million to $4.7 million.
- The most common sources of funding for Hawaii AAAs are the OAA and state and local government funds.
- The number of full-time staff ranges between 16 and 20.
- The responding AAAs in Hawaii reported no part-time staff.
- The number of volunteers ranges between two and 25.

Other AAA Roles
- All responding Hawaii AAAs lead or are a part of an Aging and Disability Resource Center (ADRC).
- One responding Hawaii AAA serves as the local State Health Insurance Assistance Program.
- No responding Hawaii AAAs operate a Long-Term Care Ombudsman Program.

About Area Agencies on Aging
Area Agencies on Aging (AAAs) across the country help ensure that older adults and people with disabilities live with optimal health, well-being, independence and dignity in their homes and communities by providing a coordinated system of services and supports. Established by the federal Older Americans Act in 1973, there are more than 600 AAAs nationwide. Learn more about AAAs at www.usaging.org.
