Dear Chair Murray, Vice Chair Collins, Chair Cole and Ranking Member DeLauro:

As your subcommittees consider the FY 2025 Labor/HHS/Education appropriations bills in the coming months, USAging urges you to prioritize Older Americans Act (OAA) and other programs that provide a range of critical services to support older adults in aging successfully at home and in their communities. USAging represents the country’s 614 Area Agencies on Aging (AAAs) and advocates for the more than 280 Title VI Native American Aging Programs. Our members are the local leaders that develop, coordinate and deliver a wide range of home and community-based services, including information and referral/assistance, case management, home-delivered and congregate meals, in-home services, caregiver supports, transportation, evidence-based health and wellness programs, long-term care ombudsman programs and more.

Older Americans Act
The OAA is the cornerstone of the nation’s non-Medicaid home and community-based services (HCBS) system. Each year, through the OAA, nearly 11 million older Americans receive critical support from the nationwide Aging Network, which consists of states, AAAs, Title VI programs and tens of thousands of local service providers. Throughout the COVID-19 crisis, the Aging Network has served more older adults than ever before by providing life-saving services thanks to federal emergency relief funds and rapid innovation to meet the growing demand for services. High levels of need experienced by older adults have not faded away, however, and AAAs continue to serve an increasing number of older adults, with demographic trends only pointing to further escalation of need for these critical home and community-based services in the near future.

The increased investment will provide longer-term value. OAA services like those provided by AAAs can delay or prevent the need for higher level or more expensive (i.e., nursing home) care, postponing impoverishment and eligibility for the means-tested Medicaid long-term care program. By supporting the health of older adults through evidence-based wellness programs, nutrition services, medication management and other services, OAA programs save Medicare—and the nation—money.

It’s time for a reset to expand the reach of and investment in these OAA programs to reflect the realities of a rapidly aging nation. As you determine the wisest FY 2025 appropriations levels, USAging urges your subcommittees to adopt the highest possible funding levels for all OAA programs and services.

While all OAA subtitles require immediate increase to meet the current and future needs of older adults, on behalf of our AAA and Title VI Native American Aging Program members, USAging urges Congress to prioritize the following OAA services when developing the FY 2025 budget for the U.S. Administration on Aging, housed within the U.S. Administration for Community Living, Department of Health and Human Services:

- Title III B Home and Community-Based Supportive Services, $820 million
- Title VI Grants for Native American Aging Programs, $76.5 million for Part A (nutrition and supportive services) and $24 million for Part C (family caregiver support)
- Title III E National Family Caregiver Support Program, $410 million
Additional details regarding our requests follow, which we hope will be helpful as you develop FY 2025 Labor/HHS/Education spending bills.

OAA Title III B Supportive Services is the bedrock of the Older Americans Act, providing states and local agencies with flexible funding to provide a wide range of supportive services to older Americans, which include in-home services for frail older adults, senior transportation programs, Information and Referral/Assistance services (e.g., hotlines to help people find local services, resources), case management, home modification and repair, chore services, legal services, emergency/disaster response efforts and other person-centered approaches to helping older adults age well at home. Services provided through Title III B are a lifeline for older adults living in the community, and they also connect older adults to other OAA services—for example transportation services funded by Title III B ensure older adults can reach congregate meal sites funded by OAA Title III C.

The critical flexibility of this funding stream gives AAAs greater means to meet the needs of older adults at home and in the community, thereby eliminating the need for more expensive nursing home care—which usually leads to impoverishment and a subsequent need to rely on Medicaid to meet critical health care needs.

The flexibility of OAA Title III B also allows AAAs to meet new and emerging needs in their communities, such as wellness checks for homebound older adults, activities to help older adults stay socially engaged (historically in-person but now also virtual programming) and supporting vaccine outreach and assistance. However, years of eroded funding prior to COVID-19 have resulted in local agencies losing ground in their ability to provide critical Title III B Supportive Services. Without bold investment in FY 2025, the expiration of the COVID-relief funding will create massive service cliffs across a range of OAA programs, but especially Title III B and Title III C.

To meet the high and rising demand for cost effective supportive services, we call on Congress to significantly increase funding for OAA Title III B to reach at least $820 million in FY 2025.
OAA Title VI Native American Aging Programs are a primary authority for funding aging services in Indian Country, where elders are the poorest in the nation. Title VI Part A largely provides nutrition services but also provides wraparound supportive services such as those found in Title III B. Title VI Part C funds family caregiver support programs for those caring for older adults, as well as older adults caring for adult children with disabilities or grandchildren or relative children. These services are intended to supplement the overall OAA programs and services by giving tribes added resources to respond to the most urgent needs of older adults in Indian Country.

We urge Congress to significantly increase funding for Title VI in FY 2025 to reach at least $76.5 million for Part A (nutrition and supportive services) and $24 million for Part C (family caregiver support).

Through the OAA’s Title III E National Family Caregiver Support Program (NFCSP), those who care for friends and family members as they age receive support through training, respite, support groups and other programs. The NFCSP funds local AAAs to assist older caregivers and family members caring for older loved ones by offering a range of in-demand supports to family caregivers in every community. Steady and sustained increases are needed to adequately invest in this modest federal program that now supports just a small fraction of the 41.8 million caregivers for people aged 50 and older, and if adequately funded, could prevent billions in more expensive institutional care costs that rely on taxpayer funding.

Though extremely valuable, given limited funding, the NFCSP cannot currently meet the need for these services. We urge Congress to expand federal funding for current caregiver support programs and to explore policy solutions to ensure that caregiver support becomes a vital component of state and federal long-term services and supports reforms.

For FY 2025, we encourage Congress to significantly increase appropriations to at least $410 million for the National Family Caregiver Support Program, which is the only national program supporting the family caregivers of older adults—who provide the majority of long-term care in this country.
Thank you for your consideration of our recommendations. Should you have any questions, please feel free to contact me or Amy Gotwals, Chief, Public Policy and External Affairs, and Olivia Umoren, Director, Public Policy and Advocacy, policy@usaging.org.

Sincerely,

Sandy Markwood
